To those responsible for such decisions,

My wife and I have just returned from a visit to the Atlantic provinces. Featured on this vacation was a trip through Gros Morne National Park. This piece of land is nothing short of awe-inspiring and fully deserves its recognition as a UNESCO World Heritage Site. The convergence of continental plates results in a unique terrain and habitat which should not be put at risk by any economic development, especially any that could jeopardize the environment in any way.

Please ensure that there is no drilling for any natural resources anywhere within the vicinity of this national treasure.
